Colonel William Wickham, of Richmond, arrived here this morning, called no some of the Virginia members at the Capitol, and then went to see Mr. James L. Norris and others of the Laccutive Committee for the imagural in refer nee to the tender made by his regiment of cavalry as an escort to Mr. Cleveland, on the ith of March. The same offer was made some time since to Mr. Cleveland, but the whole matter will be left with the local committee, and in due course of time Colonel Wickham will be advised as to what position his command will have in the parade. General Schofield, United States army, will have control of such matters, but it is though the will be as favorably inclined as possible to trol of such matters, but it is thought he will be as favorably inclined as possible to Virginia, especially as the First Regiment is said to be the finest body of volunteer cavalry in the land. General Schofield was in military command of Virginia in reconstruction days, he was a kind officer, the people of the State remember him favorably, and he likes Virginia, so it would seem he ought to de all he consistently can for Colonel Wickham's troops."

When love has bound the heart;
'Tis hard, so hard to speak the word
We must forever part. Dearest loved one, we must lay thee
In the peaceful grave's embrace;
But thy memory will be cherished
Till we see thy heavenly face.
